

On Oct 12, 2018, at 11:02 PM, Robert Zakhar <bobzakhar@yahoo.com> wrote:

MaxPreps provided a running text of the game reported by a PREP student reporter ( R. Rodrigues)

After a pc opening drive threat ended with a PREP fumble recovery deep in PREP territory, pc was never able to get anything going offensively. They got spooked into a couple of other bad snaps that resulted in a PREP recovery, some jumpy offensive penalties and a night of punts. PREP defense essentially shut down any pc offensive tactic. PREP scored at will. Maynor hit the go to Asante early then spread the ball around in the air and on the ground.

pc isn't good this year but PREP stayed focused and disciplined for the whole game. Did not fall into the ease up trap. Back up players kept the momentum. Credit coaches for that.

Late in the game PREP inserted a soph qb- Tahj (Ducee) Bullock. That's how he's listed on the roster. He's a 6'5" soph who weighs over 205 lbs.

To put this in perspective, our team - '61- had maybe a lineman or 2 listed as over 200, but that was for the program. Even if we measured in spikes, I doubt we had anybody other than Gene Torpey that was taller than 6'.

PREP won 42-0

ps:Justin Chaparro was 6-6 on Points After Kicks!

If you are a Yankee and Giant fan like me ...Thank you Marauders !