Pennsy, Jersey Central Operate Despite Pickets

Snow Bill Of $1,242
A Mile Hit

By ROBERT E. O'BRIEN
That 17-inch billBoard last month will cost Jersey City taxpayers $1,242 a mile for snow removal.

The city commission got the bill yesterday. It totals $38,698, but Mayor Witkowski and Commissioner Reilly sent a complete breakdown on where every penny is going before they approve payment.

Crews Ignore Signs
Strikers Add To Forces at Bay Head

Crews of Pennsylvania and Jersey Central Lines strike trains ignored pickets at the Bay Head railroad station today and brought their commuters to Jersey City and New York.

Seven pickets from the striking tug and ferry crewmen's unions appeared early at the terminal where most Jersey Central and Pennsy shore trains are made up. A railroad policeman

Washington in a Fever
As the Inaugural Nears

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Washington has inaugural fever.

Startled motorists yesterday encountered a full-dress rehearsal of part of Friday’s inaugural parade headed down Pennsylvania Avenue in one quarter of the city as workmen are building an artificial battleship.

There are grandstands in front of the White House. Hotels are jammed. Everyone is looking for tickets to the swearing in. (There aren’t any more.) And Earl Hargrove is looking for a man who looks like President-elect Kennedy.

On Top of the Float

Hargrove is one of the city’s builders of inaugural parade floats.

He needs a man who resembles Kennedy to stand atop the Massachusetts float he is building, which depicts the new President at various stages of his career.

Kennedy hobnobbed with the biggest stars of the entertainment and political worlds last night at two pre-inaugural parties in his honor.

One was given by his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Smith, at their Georgetown home. The other was staged in a downtown hotel by Bart Lytton, a big money raiser for the Democrats.

Kennedy in New York

Kennedy spent only about five hours in the capital between the time he landed here from Palm Beach, Fla., and took off again for New York City.

JFK Gets Cutaway for Inauguration

NEW YORK (UPI) — President-elect John F. Kennedy began a low pressure day here today away from the pre-inaugural bustle of Washington and to have a final fitting on his cutaway coat.

The President-elect did not watch President Eisenhower’s farewell address on television, but picked up early editions of the morning papers on his arrival here at 12:18 a.m. to read Eisenhower’s speech.

Kennedy arrived by plane from Washington where he had attended a party given by his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Smith.
Wives in Festive Best

Happy Hudson Democrats Jam Capital for Inaugural

WASHINGTON—Hordes of Hudson Democratic stalwarts and their wives are here for several days of gaiety as John F. Kennedy, whom they pushed for the presidency many months before Los Angeles, seconded the motion, is ushered into the White House.

Former Mayor John V. Kenny of Jersey City, one of the first to come out for Kennedy, came down early in the week to take in many of the celebrations, and Mrs. Kenny plans to join him in time Friday for the inauguration and the inaugural ball. They have been invited to share the presidential box.

MRS. KENNY plans to wear to the ball a floor-length white dress of peau de soie.

In the Kenny party at the Congressional Hotel are their daughter, Mrs. Paul Hanly, and her husband, who is deputy warden of the Hudson County Penitentiary.

The Hanlys and their daughter, Miss Margo Hanly, arrived in Washington early in the week, and have been attending parties every day. Some of the high spots ahead are the cocktail party for "distinguished ladies," the Frank Sinatra entertainment, the Young Democrats' ball and, of course, the inaugural ball.

MRS. Hanly has chosen for the ball a long white silk dress with a high neckline and cape sleeves. Contrasting with the white are strips of red sequins. This she is combining with a gold lame coat, and red accessories.

Miss Hanly, who will be escorted to the ball by John Boylan of Jersey City, will wear the floor-length white silk dress she wore at the Catholic presentation ball in Newark. She has selected red slippers and a red evening coat.

Probably the longest Washington date list is that of Finance Director and Mrs. Murray of Jersey City, who are at the Shoreham Hotel.

The Murray are hosts this afternoon at a reception in the Shoreham for the Democrats of New Jersey, of which he is president. They will also attend the governors' reception this afternoon at the Statler and the Young Democrats dance.

TOMORROW AT 11:30 they will go to the brunch being given by U.S. Senator Harrison Williams in the new Senate Office Building. They will also attend the Lyndon Johnson reception, a dinner for Jersey City and state Democratic leaders and their wives and, in the evening, a concert at Constitution Hall.

Friday at 11, Murray, president of the Democratic Association of Jersey City, will welcome 100 members coming to Washington by bus for Inauguration Day at a brunch at the 2400 Hotel.

At noon the Murray will attend the swearing-in on the Capitol steps. Afterwards they will attend a luncheon at the Capitoi as guests of President Kennedy and Vice President Johnson.

THE MURRAYS will have special seats across from the White House for the inaugural parade, which starts at 2. At 5 they will attend a reception at the 2400 Hotel, given by the Democratic Association of Jersey City. At 8 the Murray will give a private din-
Hudson Helps New President

Charles Hoffman, who operates a West New York chair rental operation, is filling a rush order to provide 3,000 bleacher seats for Friday's inaugural parade for President-elect Kennedy.

Hoffman said he was called on yesterday after bigger chair-renting agencies had been caught short. He said his company would erect the bleachers today. "This is the first time I've ever been asked to help a U. S. president," he said.

Senate OK Expected for Stevenson

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Adlai E. Stevenson was expected to win the Senate Foreign Relations Committee's approval today of his appointment as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

A Republican senator said he foresaw no "effective opposition" to President-elect Kennedy's selection of the twice unsuccessful Democratic presidential candidate. Stevenson, called for questioning by the foreign relations group, led a fresh phalanx of Kennedy cabinet and sub-cabinet nominees to public hearings before Senate committees.

Navy Secretary-designate John B. Connally and six other Pentagon appointees were being heard by the Armed Services Committee.

Former Gov. Luther Hodges of North Carolina, Kennedy's choice for commerce secretary, was appearing before the Interstate Commerce Committee.
Expect to Find Bodies

Divers Ready to Enter Sea Tower Living Quarters

NEW YORK (UPI) — Divers expected to enter the crumpled living quarters today of the radar tower that buckled and sank Sunday night — taking 28 men to their deaths — to recover the bodies believed trapped in the structure.

Hope that any would be found alive was abandoned yesterday when the first divers reached the tower platform 50 feet below the surface where it hangs at a 45-degree angle from one of the twisted support columns.

The divers spent an hour tapping the steel walls of the sunken hulk, but there was no response. Rear Adm. Allen M. Shinn, commander of the naval task force at the scene, called off the rescue operation which had been mounted when tapping signals were heard coming from the platform Monday.

It was believed then that some of the 26 men unaccounted for might have remained alive in an air bubble caught in the wreckage as the tower was twisted off its three massive pilings by battering seas, and sank.

Basketball Countdown

Snyder Still Team to Beat For South Hudson Honors

By CAS RAKOWSKI

Unless quite a few teams go on drastic losing streaks, the Southern Division basketball race figures to be a dog fight among Snyder, St. Peter's, Dickinson and Marist. At present any of the four teams is capable of walking home with the title. Bayonne and Ferris appear troublesome while Lincoln is a question mark.

Now that we've seen all of the clubs play, here are our selections and order of finish in the Southern Division:

1. Snyder
2. St. Peter's
3. Dickinson
4. Marist
5. Bayonne
6. Ferris
7. Lincoln

A glance of each club reveals the following:

Snyder — Jerry Degnan has the best in South Hudson, if not the state, in Mike (Magnificent) Rooney. Rooney is a proven shooter, a top defensive performer and a born team leader. The Tigers have a fine rebounder and scorer in Pete DeLisa while Danny DeLisa is a strong backcourt performer. Richie Niedzwiecki, Richie Heitner and John McGraw give Snyder a well knit unit.
ST. PETER'S — Jerry Halligan has Jim Barry back and that means trouble for future Prep opponents. Barry is another one of the fine cagers in the state who will be joining the 1,000 point club. Frank Nicoletti and Wayne McGuirt add scoring punch and if Brian Sheeran, Stu McGregor and Greg Hochstein develop rapidly, St. Peter's will be a threat.

Prep Tops Ferris in Swimming

St. Peter Prep swept seven of nine events yesterday afternoon to hand Ferris a 56-23 setback in a dual swimming meet at Dickinson High School pool. The win was the fourth straight for the Prep acquamen.

Joe Dowd, Ed Cashman, Charley Hoffman, Jim Dugan, Joe Frees and the 200 yard medley relay foursome took top laurels in the meet while John Gawlik was the lone individual winner for Ferris and anchored the Bulldogs' 200 yard freestyle relay team which won.

Cashman was the top performer with two first place finishes. He was best in the 100 yard freestyle and in the 100 yard butterfly events. Gawlik's triumph came in the 200-yard freestyle event and he was the power behind Ferris' relay win.

The summaries:

- 200-yard medley relay—1. St. Peter's Prep (Parker, Boyle, Burke, McConville).
- 200-yard freestyle relay—1. Ferris (Pojawa, Duda, Tawgan, Gawlik).
Good Appointment

Governor Meyner has nominated Jersey City's William A. Sternkopf as a member of the New Jersey Turnpike Authority.

Sternkopf, a respected public accountant, is one of those rare individuals who can stay in the thick of politics for years without being branded as a “politician.”

He served as Hudson’s auditor for 20 years and performed similar duties for Jersey City, Guttenberg, Kearny and several shore communities at one time or another.

The turnpike is important to industrial Hudson and vice versa. Our county rates representation on the commission and Meyner picked a good man to succeed Congressman Neil Gallagher of Bayonne. Gallagher resigned so he could work full time on Federal matters.

Dispensation For Catholics At Inaugural

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—There's an interesting minor precedent being made by Catholics on Jan. 20, aside from the major precedent of inaugurating a Catholic President for the first time in history.

That precedent is a special dispensation that Catholics attending the Inauguration may eat meat on that day.

It being a Friday, members of the Catholic faith ordinarily would not be permitted to eat meat.

THE TIME between the oath at the Capitol at noon and the start of the Inaugural parade will hardly be enough for the thousands of visitors now thronging Washington to get anything other than a ham sandwich and a cup of coffee.

So if the Catholic visitors partake of a little ham or a hot dog or even a roast-beef sandwich, they'll be given special dispensation.
