PATH Learns
Even Santa Claus Must Obey Fire Laws

Santa Claus was put in his place by the Jersey City fire department last night—but with good reason.

Walker at the PATH Journal Square terminal, had just finished getting a 30-foot Christmas tree into place when members of the Fire Prevention Bureau came in and told them the tree would have to go.

It is against the fire code in Jersey City, the PATH men were told, to put a natural tree with or without lights in a public place. It is also against the law to erect any kind of tree with lights in a public place, they were told.

FRANK TRAINOR, superintendent of models and exhibits for the Port of New York Authority and a former Jersey City resident, said he had called the fire department to check before decorating the tree.

"The tree must be 100 per cent to the terminal with the official word."

"Of course we were a little disappointed," Trainor said, "but it looks good as we will have to put up an artificial tree and light it with spotlights."

Deputy Fire Chief William Watson said the department also had to turn down requests from schools, the CYO and the YMCA to put up trees.

"There are many possible dangers from having trees in public places," Chief Watson said, "and people should realize that the fire codes are in effect for their protection."

"It is the policy of the authority to put up Christmas displays at many of our terminals," a PATH spokesman said. "We try to show the Christmas spirit each year for the thousands of patrons who use our facilities. The tree may be artificial, but there is nothing artificial about our Christmas spirit."

Pope Has Anemia—Vatican But Communiqué Says He's Better

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John XXIII, confined to bed for the third day, has gastric trouble which has caused "rather acute anemia," an official Vatican communiqué said today.

The communiqué called for prayers for the health of the 81-year-old Pontiff.

"Since last Tuesday, as the advice of doctors has become necessary to intern the patient's spirit of discouragement because of the accompanied symptoms of gastric troubles for which the Holy Father had been undergoing appropriate medical and dietetic treatment, and which caused rather strong anemia," the communiqué said.

"Transquit ... Better" The communiqué was issued after a report by Jesuit Vatican Bureau that the Pope had spent a "very tranquil" night and was One of Hoboken's sights—unnecessary 'sight'.

JFK Meets Mikoyan On Cuba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy meets late today with Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan for a Cuban crisis discussion which could develop into a general review of East-West conflicts.

Top American officials said the principal subject for discussion at the 4:30 p.m. White House discussion, so far as the United States was concerned, was the question of how and when Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev intends to fulfill his promise to prove that Cuba has been purged of all offensive Russian weapons. But they acknowledged other subjects might come up.

It’s Almost Like Florida For a Few Days, Anyway

Residents of the metropolitan area will bask in balmy weather for a few more days at least, the Weather Bureau said today. Sunny skies and temperatures around the 60-degree mark were predicted for today and tomorrow, with a similar outlook for Saturday. Tonight’s low is expected to be about 40.

A reading of 56 recorded at the Newark weather station at 1:30 p.m. yesterday was the highest since Nov. 16, when the mercury also touched 56. The record high for today’s date is 64 set in 1905.

MIAMI (UPI) — A fierce storm moved farther into the Atlantic today and chilly tourists along the Florida Gold Coast hopefully began shucking coats.

“Temperatures probably will go up into the 70s in southern Florida today,” said the Miami Weather Bureau, “and unless the storm changes direction, the seas will subside some.”

Gale warnings were displayed from Savannah, Ga., to the Virginia Capes and small craft warnings from New Jersey to the Florida Keys.

Life Expectancy in U.S. Over 70 for First Time

By CHARLES SCHAEFFER
- Progress Report Writer
WASHINGTON — The life expectancy of Americans has passed age 70 for the first time.

This means that today's babies have the best statistical chance yet of attaining the Biblical threescore and ten years.

THE JUST- DISCLOSED figures, based on a 10 per cent sample of 1961 death records from 50 states, show a new high of 70.2 years for the total population.

A breakdown of 1961 male versus female rates is not yet available. But boy babies born in 1959 for example, had a 66.5 year expectancy, while the estimate for girls was 73 years. Combined, the average was still under 70.

The same year a man, aged 30, could expect another 22.8 years of life and a woman, 27.5 years. New figures probably will sustain the women's edge on their husbands and male relatives.

THE OVERALL death rate in 1961 dropped to a low of 9.3 per 1000 population, the lowest since the record low of 9.2 in 1954. And rates declined in almost every age group.

Five of the ten leading causes of death showed declines since 1960. The margin was sufficient to rule out normal fluctuations in the sampling, according to public health reports, which published the figures in the current issue.

Decreases were recorded in the deaths blamed on vascular lesions afflicting the central nervous system, accidents; influenza and pneumonia (except pneumonia of the new-born; general arteriosclerosis and diabetes mellitus.

THE INFANT death rate of 25.3 per 1,000 live births set a record low, about 2 per cent under the previous low of 25.7 recorded in 1960.

Government statisticians officially list the five leading causes of death in order of mortality as heart disease, malignant neoplasm (cancer), vascular lesions afflicting the central nervous system, accidents and certain diseases of early infancy.

Medical circles generally attribute the increased life span to improved drugs, surgery, earlier diagnosis of ills, better natal and prenatal care of mothers, and vaccines that have all but wiped out some killer diseases of the past.

Actually, the life-expectancy figure could vary from year to year backward, too. A possible rash of deaths due this year to influenza, for example, could shave percentage points from the estimated span.

Doorbells Ring

St. Paul's Parish Conducting Census
About 450 members of St. Paul's Church, Jersey City, are learning the problems involved in census taking. They're ringing doorbells in the Greenville section of the city in an attempt to find the number of Catholics within the parish boundaries.

The census began Tuesday and is expected to be completed by next Monday.

"In former years," a parish spokesman said, "five priests went around and took the census. Often they couldn't complete the almost impossible task of ringing everybody's doorbell to see how many new Catholics had moved in. But with 450 parishioners, who have volunteered to help, it will be a lot easier this time."

The St. Paul's area is bounded by the Pennsylvania Railroad on the West; Armstrong Avenue on the East, the Central Railroad on the South and the intersection of Spring St. and West Side Ave. on the North.

WE NOW HAVE about 23,000 parishioners registered, but new families in the area have increased the total number of Catholics within the parish boundaries. Only a complete and general census will give us accurate records," said Rt. Rev. Msgr. Leo L. Mahoney, Pastor of St. Paul's.
$147,500 to Charity

3 Kennedys and an In-Law Pull in $1 Total Pay

By DEAN REED
Of Our Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON—All three Kennedy brothers give their federal paychecks to charity. Their annual earnings as president, attorney general, and senator total $147,500.

The White House recently confirmed that President Kennedy has turned over his federal salary to charitable causes since he was first elected to the house in 1946.

THE JUSTICE Department, asked yesterday about attorney general Robert F. Kennedy, said he follows his brother's practice.

Sen. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy of Massachusetts, the President's youngest brother, plans to do the same. He is officially on the Senate payroll but has not yet drawn a check.

Another family member, brother-in-law Sargent Shriver, is director of the Peace Corps and services for one dollar a year.

SHRIVER is the only other member of the Kennedy family now in federal office. Another brother-in-law, Stephen Smith, worked in the State Department early in the administration but quit to help manage the Kennedy family's business holdings when Joseph P. Kennedy, the President's father, was stricken ill.

All of the Kennedy brothers have in the past either given their salaries to charity or accepted only token pay.

President Kennedy has been on the federal payroll for almost 16 years—six in the House, eight years in the Senate and two years as President. His salary now is $100,000 a year.

ROBERT KENNEDY'S only previous federal job was as counsel for the Senate Racket-Investigating Committee. As attorney general, he earns $25,000.

Edward Kennedy held no federal job until his election to the Senate Nov. 6. He worked briefly as a local assistant district attorney in Boston and was paid one dollar a year. The Senate salary is $22,500.

Sir Winston, Turning 88, Yearns for Riviera Sun

LONDON (UPI) — Sir Winston Churchill’s 88th birthday rolls around tomorrow and the venerable statesman’s family and friends are delighted at the opportunity of stressing his age. “Happy 88th Birthday,” they will say—and hope the hint sinks in.

For the old man is feeling so well that he tends to forget his years.

‘FRANKLY,’ SAID a friend today, “we are afraid he may overextend himself. He has got to be reminded of his great age and a birthday is a fine and natural time for doing that. We wouldn’t dare do it at any other time.”

Sir Winston is clumping around his town house in Hyde Park Gate on a cane, fretting because doctors do not think him quite ready for a journey to the French Riviera.

His continuing recovery from a broken thigh bone suffered in a fall in Monte Carlo last June is remarkable, and Sir Winston is convinced the leg will be completely normal if he can only bask in the sunshine for a few hours a day.

“HE IS KEEPING the pressure on,” said the friends, “so I suppose they won’t be able to hold him here much after the first of the year.”

Sir Winston is making one important change in routine as a result of the leg injury. He will not attend the annual sing-song of his public school, Harrow-on-the-Hill, thus breaking a tradition extending back 21 years into the worst days of the war.

These are emotional occasions with the boys of the school, in starched white-collars and black mess jackets, singing to Sir Winston the songs he himself sang when he was a student nearly 75 years ago.

Police Arrest Negro Set-ins

Moriarty Will Appeal Conviction

NEWARK (UPI) — Numbers racketeer Joseph (Newsboy) Moriarty will appeal his recent gambling-tax-evasion conviction before the 3rd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia.

An appeal notice has been filed in Federal Court here by Moriarty's lawyer, Raymond A. Brown. Moriarty was convicted of the charges Nov. 16 here. He was sentenced to one year in prison and fined $12,500. The sentence is to begin after he serves the rest of his current term of two to three years in Trenton State Prison for possession of lottery slips.

The Wall

According to one of their number who defected to the West, the Communist policemen along the Berlin Wall have new orders. They no longer are to shoot anyone already beyond the Wall in West Berlin or to wound anyone in such a manner that he will fall on to the non-Communist side of the Wall.

Apparently there is no change in the order as far as shooting on the East Berlin side of the Wall is concerned. And so, the only effect one can expect is that the Communist policemen will shoot sooner and straighter so that all the dead and wounded will fall on their side.
The new regulations are completely in the spirit of the Berlin Wall. This barrier, locking inhabitants into the happy Communist fatherland, is at once a most laughable as well as a tragic reminder of Communism’s failure at home.

While there might have been some political value in drawing a line through Berlin, the Wall itself is a triumph of propaganda against Communism — and manufactured by Communists themselves.

Sooner or later the Wall must and will come down. Our side was smart to avoid trying to take it down. The Communists themselves will have to take it down some day in defense of their own system. The new rules for shooting at escapees even may be the beginning of the end of the Wall.
Kennedy Scores on Television

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Television, and its adept use by the Kennedy administration, is giving the public a perhaps unparalleled close-up look at a president and those who surround him.

In addition to the President's televised news conferences, and the appearances by members of his family on video shows, some of his high-ranking associates are on view for careful human scrutiny by the citizens they serve.

“Tears on a Painted Face” is a pleasant tale that manages to avoid the cliches you keep expecting. Dan Duryea plays a rodeo clown who is slowing down.

8:00 2 PERRY MASON

“The Case of the Weary Watchdog” is a complicated but intriguing show which gives Barbara Hale a chance to say more than three words at a time. Della becomes so involved in a crime that she is eventually arrested as an accessory to murder.

8:30 4 THE BOB HOPE SHOW

Jack Benny, Ethel Merman, and Bobby Darin join Bob for a show highlighted as usual, by Hope’s topical, fast-paced monologue. The major skit, and the funniest bit, casts Benny and Hope as a pair of convicts in “Bird: Brain of Alcatraz.” The only trouble is, Burt Lancaster may decide not to let this skit get on — and it may be a last minute decision.

9:00 7 MY THREE SONS

This show always manages to stay very close to the top standards it has set. We meet the Douglas family during a long heat wave when Chip, and his friend Sudsy, are the only ones not affected by the high temperatures. Chip’s problem is collecting paper for a scrap drive. Mike’s problem is to see that the house is ship-shape when his new girl comes for dinner, and Bub’s problem is that it is too darn hot to cook a roast. But Steve’s problem is the one that causes all the trouble — he has an important meeting with a business client, and his notes have been given to the scrap drive. The end is a delight.

9:30 7 McHALE’S NAVY

Binghamton is still out to get McHale (Ernest Borgnine) and it looks as if this episode will be the one.

“Ride the Nightmare” is pure Hitchcock suspense. The show is basically one long, exciting chase, with Hugh O’Brian the quarry of some escaped convicts.

10:00 7 PREMIERE

“The Hands of Donafrio” is an absorbing drama about the art world. John Williams is ideally cast as a suave art dealer, who while on a mission to see a painting that might be a Whistler, comes on a piece of sculpture unmistakably the work of Donafrio, an Italian apparently killed in a bombing raid during the war.
