Massive Force Ready for 'Emergency'

TROOPS MOVE OUT FROM EAST COAST

Marines Alerted For Battle
Big Carrier Sails With Decks Loaded

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI) - Massive contingents of Navy and Marine troops were dispatched from bases along the East Coast Friday night in what the Navy termed a "general alert."

A Navy spokesman at Atlantic Fleet Headquarters here confirmed that combat-ready Marines were boarding the amphibious assault aircraft carrier Forrestal. He said it was "impossible" to reveal whether the move was more than just a routine training exercise.

Runoff Campaign Warms Up County Record Cited by Gangemi

In their campaign for the mayoralty of Jersey City, Supervisor Gangemi and Paoli Director Berry exchanged barbs, discussing last night and today both sides were claiming "electoral victories."

Berry supporters said they were elated with his newest "victory" in yesterday's official counting of the votes, that he had won by 100 votes over Gangemi.

GANGEMI PEOPLE shook up a battle victory for the supervisor because of one pointed observation he made at every campaign stop last night. "If it is a failure in county government I would never come before you and say, "Vote for me.""

"Thank God for the courts of New Jersey," Berry told his audience. "We had to go all the way to the Supreme Court to get a fair shake, but we got it and we came out on top."

"You can't obtain yourself into office," Gangemi told his listeners, and he cited issues on which Berry voted neither for nor against at city commission meetings.

HOLDING UP a letter sent out from Berry's camp to the city's policemen and firemen, Gangemi told a Hudson City group last night: "Here's Berry asking for your support. Where was I when they sought his help from him?"

JFK, Khrushchev Begin Talks

VIENNA (UPI)—President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev met for the first time today to take each other’s measure in man-to-man talks certain to shape the future of American-Soviet relations.

Kennedy met the Soviet premier outside the American Embassy in Vienna’s suburbs.

THE PRESIDENT walked down the steps of the U.S. ambassador’s residence and headquarters and greeted Khrushchev with outstretched hand.

Then Kennedy escorted Khrushchev up to the top of the steps where they turned and posed for photographers.

After a few moments they entered the residence to begin their talks.

THE INITIAL confrontation of the two leaders took place less than three hours after Kennedy flew in from Paris to get a far warmer welcome from Austrians than the Russian leader received yesterday.

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI) — Massive contingents of Navy and Marine troops were dispatched from bases along the East Coast Friday night in what the Navy termed a “general alert.”

A Navy spokesman at Atlantic Fleet Headquarters here confirmed that combat-ready Marines were boarding the amphibious assault aircraft carrier Boxer. He said it was “impossible” to reveal whether the move was more than just a routine training exercise.

Loaded with Planes
In Jacksonville, Fla., the huge carrier Shangri-La, its decks loaded with jet and propeller-driven planes, also pulled out to sea.

A spokesman at the Mayport Naval Air Station said the Shangri-La has been put on an alert status Thursday and its crew ordered “to be ready in the event of an emergency.”

Several units of the Marine Corps 2nd Division at Camp Lejeune, N.C., were also called out as part of the alert last night.

Both Sides Blasted By Alabama Judge

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—A federal judge Friday issued a verbal blast at both the “Freedom Riders” and segregationist groups which oppose them. He threatened all parties concerned with jail terms if further racial trouble develops in Alabama.

U.S. District Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr., in a ruling which did not have the backing of the administration, said the biracial “Freedom Riders” had caused “irreparable injury” to the United States.

At the same time, Johnson told local authorities and Ku Klux Klansmen to cease interference with interstate bus traffic.

In Washington, the Justice Department urged the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) to take fast action on U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy’s request for laws prohibiting segregation in interstate bus systems.

Stolen Statue of Policeman Recovered in Bayonne

An eight-and-a-half foot bronze statue dedicated to the memory of Jersey City's police dead was found decapitated in the weeds and rubbish on Bayonne's Hook Road, at 6:45 p.m. yesterday.

Jersey City police, who had been working on the case since the mysterious disappearance of the monument from Bayview Cemetery Wednesday night said they found Vincent Ahlemeyer, 17, of 31 Woodlawn Ave., Jersey City, busily trying to dispose of the evidence.

POLICE FOUND the torso of the statue buried in a cluster of weeds near a group of old Standard Oil tanks. The head of the memorial was buried in the tar.

Captains Charles Griffin and Frank Moran and Jersey City detectives, all of the 5th Precinct, immediately called Bayonne police headquarters. Capt. Frank Drobinski, Sgts. Walter Plyninski and Anthony Auriemma of the Bayonne force were sent to the scene.

Police said they found the legs of the statue in Ahlemeyer's home.

THE TIP-OFF to the case came when police saw a heavily-loaded car being driven by a youth close to Bayview Cemetery. Captain Griffin said that he had men on roof tops looking for such evidence. When the car was spotted, police trailed it to Bayonne and the-Hook Road.

The statue, which was dedicated 25 years ago to the memory of Jersey City's police dead, is worth only about $50 to $100 as scrap metal. Because of this, Public Safety Director McLaughlin thought it was the work of a "cop-hater."

For McLaughlin, the monument held special interest. He wrote the memorial piece inscribed on the bronze plate on the base.

ON THE DATE of dedication, a large crowd watched Mayor Frank Hague unveil the memorial. The statue was valued at $17,000 on that date.

The statue headed a plot of land in the cemetery deeded to the police department in 1887. In 1936, four patrolmen were buried there. Since then, about 16 others have joined them.

The Hole Question About Swiss Cheese

MONROE, Wis. (UPI)—Cheesemakers in this "Swiss cheese capital of the United States" say the federal government should keep its eye on the cheese and not on the holes.

They say good Swiss cheese is good whether the holes in the cheese are natural or artificial. Local cheesemakers said they were astounded to learn the Federal Food and Drug Administration had seized shipments of Swiss cheese in Chicago and New York. The government accused the cheesemakers of milking the public by riddling the cheese artificially.

Brendan Faces Trial

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Disheveled Brendan Behan, the Irish playwright, who loves his whisky-and-stout, goes to trial June 30, pleading innocent to disturbing the peace in a local beer and pizza parlor.

Attorney Max Solomon appeared yesterday before Municipal Judge Ralph H. Nutter to enterBehan's innocent plea to charges of assault, drunkenness and disturbing the peace and to ask for a jury trial.

"It's not necessary for him to be here," Somonon told reporters. Meanwhile, Behan, 38, was making the rounds of his favorite haunts. To show that he bore no malice toward the Pizza Palace, the author of "The Hostage" and "Borstal Boy," returned to the same spot to dance a jig.

Police arrested Behan there Wednesday night when, after a week of teetotaling, he took up a belated offer to celebrate St. Patrick's Day. Officers said Behan became abusive when a bartender refused him further service.

Modern Woman Is Victim Of Man and the Machine

By FULTON J. SHEEN

Modern woman has been made equal with man, but she has not been made happy. She has been “emancipated,” like a pendulum removed from a clock and now no longer free to swing, or like a flower which has been emancipated from its roots. She has been cheapened in her search for mathematical equality in two ways, by becoming a victim to man and a victim to the machine.

She became a victim to man by becoming only the instrument of his pleasure and ministering to his needs in a sterile exchange of egotisms. She became a victim to the machine by subordinating the creative principle of life to the production of non-living things, which is the essence of Communism.

THIS IS NOT a condemnation of a professional woman, because the important question is not whether a woman finds favor in the eyes of a man, but whether she can satisfy the basic instincts of womanhood. The problem of a woman is whether certain God-given qualities, which are specifically hers, are given adequate and full expression. These qualities are principally devotion, sacrifice and love.

Carry Back Eyes Triple Crown in Belmont Stakes

By RAY AYRES

Carry Back, game little winner of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, with devastating stretch runs, today faced a rare opportunity in racing, a chance to sweep the turf's "triple crown" by winning the $148,650 Belmont Stakes.

The cheaply bred Carry Back was a 1 to 2 overnight favorite to beat eight rivals before an expected 65,000 fans at Belmont Park.

THROUGHOUT THE history of the sport only 10 horses had the chance Carry Back has in today's mile and one-half classic. Eight of them made the most of it by adding the Belmont Stakes to earlier triumphs at Churchill Downs and Pimlico.

Houk Awards Berra Regular Position
As Yankees’ Most Able Leftfielder

Yogi Raps Two Homers In Triumph

By JCK LANG

CHICAGO—Another one of Ralph Houk’s carefully thought out spring plans has gone down the drain. No longer is Hector Lopez the regular left fielder, a job he began sharing with Bob Cerv when Cerv was obtained in a deal last month. But the new left fielder isn’t Cerv either. It’s our old friend Yogi Berra, who may not be the Yankees’ most valuable player but he certainly rates right now as the most versatile.

Berra will stay in left field as long as he’s able. That’s what Houk said after last night’s 6-2 win over the hite Sox in which Yogi walloped two home runs to help ease Whitey Ford to his seventh victory.

‘YEH, I THINK so,” Houk admitted when someone asked him if Berra was his left fielder. “The club is getting runs and I don’t want to disturb things. Of course, if he stiffens up, that’s something else. But he’s got a hot bat and we’re scoring runs and he’s playing good ball in the field.”

Of course, Berra in the outfield is nothing new. Casey Stengel used him in the outfield the first few years he was up and then off and on again from 1956 on.

Every year the Yanks wonder if this is going to be Yogi’s last year and every year he comes on to do so many things to help the cause that they wonder where they’d be without him.

YOGI MAY NOT look like a ballplayer but few who ever played the game possessed more natural talent than he does. And no matter where he plays, he gives a good account of himself.

There was the experiment Stengel launched last spring when he tried him at third base. Although people laughed at the way Berra played it, Stengel didn’t. “If he played it often enough he’d do a good job,” Stengel insisted. “He’ll do a good job no matter where he pays because he’s a ballplayer and he’s got the natural instincts.”

Houk’s plans this spring were to rest Berra for the stretch run and give Elston Howard and Johnny Blanchard more work. So far, Berra has been in more games than both of them and the season is only seven weeks old.

Edison Honors

This is a banner year for Thomas A. Edison, though he has been dead for three decades. Earlier this spring he became one of three Americans thought worthy to be admitted to the Hall of Fame. Now the mansion in West Orange where he spent the last 45 years of his life has been opened as a national museum.

This makes two Edison shrines. For some years his birthplace in Milan, O., has been maintained as a museum. As he lived there only the first three or four years of his life, the exhibits illustrate not his career but the surroundings and occupations of a small Midwestern town in the 1850s.

Edison was not a pure scientist but an intensely practical man. His inventive career started at 16, most of his early achievements being shortcuts useful to his work as a telegrapher.

His best work was done between 1870 and 1880, after which time most of his inventions were variations on something previously devised. All in all, he was an inventive giant almost without peer. Moreover, it seems unlikely that his fame as an inventor will ever be surpassed. The Edisons of today are apt to work for — and to be submerged in — large corporations that do not foster individuality.
