Not much to do with freezing fog and 6 inches of snow. Image of a famous nebula near the star Capella in the constellation Auriga taken from my backyard. Spend a lot of time imaging the heavens out in the desert and either freezing, sizzling, or beating off the coyotes, spiders, and bugs.

Happy New Year to all.

Happy New Year to you John and to all my classmates out there in different parts of the world. The photo you sent is inspirational. Probably not many spiders out there but who knows...
