Shayne and Jayson will play in the annual East vs. West matchup on Saturday, January 6, 2018, at the Alamodome in San Antonio, Texas. The Bowl will be nationally televised, live on NBC at 1 pm, and will feature the nation's top 100 high school football players.

The U.S. Army All-American Bowl consistently draws an annual crowd upwards of 40,000 to the Alamodome and is the most-watched high school sporting event of each year, with 5.1-million viewers tuning in to last year's broadcast. "To be an Army All-American takes drive, determination, and discipline, but also, a strong character that embodies the Army values of loyalty, duty, respect, selfless service, honor, integrity and personal courage," said Mark S. Davis, deputy assistant secretary of the Army for marketing. "Shayne and Jayson have demonstrated that they are disciplined both on and off the football field, and the U.S. Army is honored to welcome them to this year's elite U.S. Army All-American Bowl team."

As a result of Shayne and Jayson's selections, Coach Rich Hansen has also been invited to San Antonio, for the U.S. Army Coaches Academy, an elite three-day learning experience, and participate in Bowl Week activities.

For 18 years, the U.S. Army All-American Bowl has been the nation's premier high school all-star event and football game, serving as the preeminent launching pad for America's future college and NFL stars. Odell Beckham Jr., Andrew Luck, Eric Berry, Tim Tebow, and Sam Darnold are just some who made their national debuts as U.S. Army All-Americans. A total of 351 U.S. Army All-American alumni have been selected in NFL Drafts. Last year's Bowl drew an all-time record crowd of 40,568 to the Alamodome.
