"Monk".....famous for his intramural exhibitions....."Get your feet off my lunch".....triple checked every German quiz twice.....landed on his head when he forgot to come out of a swan dive over the long horse.....Public Service record for most homework on buses.

(Memories from Pat):

“Gerard was neighborhood kid. He lived on Stegman Terrace and I lived around the corner on Stegman Pky.

In the late ‘50s, ’56 to ’58 we probably had 25 boys who hung out on Stegman especially in summers.

We played ball in the streets and hung out at nights. About 10 of 25 went to Prep. Gerard was very smart and I was average so he was with the Germans and I with 1B ers.

Anyway we made different friends at the Prep although we always had the Stegman connection.

After Prep we lost touch. Btw, other Stegman boys who went on to the Prep were Richie Albers, Larry Babbio, Jimmy Hanley.

After grammar school guys were Stegman guys or Ege Ave. guys.

Nick Micucci went to Ege. Other Eges were McGee, Verdoni, Mendolla. Great times, great memories of Jersey City!!

Btw, Joe was 3 years older and the "Big Kids" had their own group. Richie’s older brother Jim and others formed that group, but 3 years age difference was a big deal. You never ran into your brother or traveled in the same circles.”
